

lamb shoulder

pot roast

cooking time from: 4 hours

method

Remove your joint from the packaging & bring to room temperature.

Preheat your oven to 210°C for fan-assisted or 230°C for ovens without a fan (gas 8).

Choose a large, flame proof casserole with deep sides & tight fitting lid.

Season the meat with good quality sea salt just prior to cooking.

Make a trivet by roughly chopping equal amounts of onion, carrot and celery (or our preferred choice of celeriac, the root of the celery) plus a bay leaf, sprig of thyme and a few black peppercorns then place the joint fat side up onto the trivet, which should line the base of the dish, place in the centre of the oven and roast for 20 minutes until nicely browned.

Next add 200ml white wine, chicken stock or water to the dish & cover with a tight fitting lid & cook for 4 to 5 hours on 140°C for fan-assisted or 160°C for ovens without a fan (gas 3), the meat is ready when it is tender, it should pull away easily when pierced with a skewer.

Remove from the oven, put onto a clean tray and keep warm by covering with a sheet of foil whilst finishing the gravy.

Pass the roasting juices through a fine strainer into a clean saucepan & bring to a simmer, skim away any fat that rises to the surface & thicken with a little corn flour mixed with cold water.

Pour the finished gravy over the joint & serve.

serving suggestions

Serve with creamy mashed potato & tender stem broccoli.

Oven Temperatures	°C	°F	Gas Mark
Very Cool	140°C	275°F	1
Warm	160°C	325°F	3
Fairly Hot	190°C	375°F	5
Hot	220°C	425°F	7
Very Hot	240°C	475°F	9

The core temperature is measured from the centre of the meat. For perfect cooking and measuring internal temperatures, we recommend a 'Meater+ Wireless Thermometer'. Available in our pantry now.

Whilst I personally develop, try and test all our recipes and cooking guides, heritage breed animals can vary immensely, therefore cooking times are a guide only. Please ensure all products are cooked through and hot before serving. Enjoy!
